Cherry—Very large, deep red, fine for preserving; valuable market variety.

Fay’s Profilie—Bright red, very sweet, stems longer than Cherry and fruit hangs on better than most varieties. To be planted with Cherry.

CORY THORNLESS BLACKBERRY

Outyields and outsells all other blackberries. Our growing tests of every thornless variety on the market proved “Cory” the only one of value. The berries often measure 2½ inches in length, have a small core, and are almost seedless. The flavor is like the wild berry, but they are richer and sweeter than other blackberries, yet are acid enough to make the finest of jelly. They are very early and borne enormously through a long season. Finer than Mammoh and costs less to pick and prune. Be sure to give this berry a trial.
